INDEX

TO THE

THIRTIETH VOLUME

OF THE

Weekly Entertainer.

A.

AGREEMENT, a ſingular, 77.

Anagrams, 337, 418, 518. Anſwers to, 118, 157, 178, 218, 498.

Anecdote of the Malteſe method of recovering perſons who fall overboard, 145. of Mr. Burke, 156. of the ſad effects of a faux pas committed before the late revolution in France, 181. of Sir Edward Hulſe and Dr. Rock, 197. reſpecting a French emigrant, 233. of Dr. Franklin, 236. of William Earl of Mansfield, 271, 354. of Garrick and Foote, 277. of a Quaker, 297. of Edward III. and the Pope, 316. of Lord Carteret, 356. of Biſhop Berkeley, 357. of Captain Cornwall, ibid. of Lord Hardwicke, 371. of Dr. Johnſon's opinion of Mr. Burke, 377. of Handel, 386. of Santeuil, a French poet, 397. of Boileau and Racine, 416. of a ſea Captain and his mutinous crew, 417. of the Captains Cromwell and Fairfax, 457. of Mr. Pitt's firſt introduction into Parliament, 517.

Anecdotes of Charles Macklin, the celebrated actor, 85. of Commodore Philips, 216. of the celebrated running horſe Eclipſe, 183. of General Houchard, 255. curious ones, 270. of Archimedes, the celebrated mathematician, 289. of Parker, the mutineer, 331. of Admiral Duncan, 335, 372. of Charles Philip Comte d'Artois, 415. of Sir Iſaac Newton, 475. of a ſhort officer and a tall Iriſhman, 477.

Aſſaſſination, remarkable inſtance of, at Turin, 16.

B.

Beckford, Mr. of Fonthill, ſketch of his life and character, 306.

Beneficence, the effects of, illuſtrated by an affecting ſtory, 501.

Breweries, caution to the proprietors of capital ones, 396.

Britiſh fiſheries, on the protection given to them in the ſixteenth century, 507.

Brown, Mr. Andrew, of Philadelphia, and his family, account of the melancholy circumſtances which attended their deaths, 191.

Buonaparte, memoirs of General, 5.

Burke, Right Hon. Edmund, copy of his will, 111. ſome account of him, 201, 223.

Cadogan,

C.

Cadogan, inſcription on the Hon. and Rev. Mr. 317.
Calumny, a picture by Apelles, 507.
Catherine II. Empreſs of Ruſſia, character of, 483.
Cattle diſtemper, on the, 141.
Charades, 37, 58, 78, 98, 138, 198, 378, 398, 458, 477, 478, 518. Anſwers to, 77, 97, 197, 198, 217, 257, 285, 297, 337, 358, 377, 398, 458.
Chatham, the late Earl of, account of his ſeizure, in the Houſe of Lords, written by an eye-witneſs, 195.
Cheſs, origin of that game, 450.
China, particulars reſpecting the empire of, 221.
China, narrative of the particulars of Lord Macartney's embaſſy to that country, abſtracted from Sir G. Staunton's account of it, 261, 285, 311, 325, 346, 368, 387, 403, 425, 452, 467, 491, 508.
Clergy, injunction reſpecting them made in 1559, 277.
Corniſh tin mines, account of, and of the extenſive trade for that article carried on in the moſt remote periods, 391.
Cuculus Indicator, ſome account of that bird, 217.
Cuſtom, a ſingular one at Zurich, 194.
Cuſtoms, a tax propoſed on, 430.

D.

Devil tree, hiſtory of the, 177.
Ducheſs of York, character of the, 117.

E.

Eaſt Indies, origin of the trade to that country, 267.
Elopement, method of puniſhing it in Turkey, 250.
Engliſh priſoners, account of their treatment in France, 513.
Enigmas, 58, 198, 218, 257, 338, 378, 418, 458, 478, 498. Anſwers to, 118, 217, 237, 517.
Erſkine, Mr. his ſpeech on the trial of Thomas Williams, a bookſeller, for publiſhing "The Age of Reaſon, by Thomas Paine," 30.
European politics, general review of, 41, 127, 208, 301, 381, 463.

F.

Farmer, ſingularities of the late Dr. 473.
Feodorovna, intereſting hiſtory of, a young Ruſſian Counteſs, 1, 21.
Filial piety, a ſtory founded on fact, 265.
Financial ſituation of this country, Lord Rokeby's reflections on, 329.
Fleet at Portſmouth, original letters from the, 106.
Fleet, original letter from a gentleman of Penzance to his brother on board the Redoubt, in North Shields, relative to the late mutiny, 121.
Fordyce, Dr. James, pleaſing account of the death of that divine, written by his wife, 91.
French Executive Directory, characters of Neufchateau and Merlin, the newly elected members of that body, 281.
French Miniſtry, intereſting particulars of the new, 142.

G.

Gaming, excellent reproof of that vice, 401.
Great men, ſingularities of, 435.
Guſtavus III. King of Sweden, authentic narrative of his aſſaſſination, 484.

H.

Hint, uſeful, 237.
Hume, David, obſervations reſpecting, 316.

Inconſiſtent

I.

Inconſiſtent expectations, on, 71.
Induſtry, remarkable inſtance of, 257.
John, King, account of the remains of his ſhrine, 257.

L.

Languages, on the mutability of, by Dr. Beattie, 275.
Lanſdown, character of George Lord, by Dr. Warton, 456.
Lapland, mode of courtſhip there, 404.
Law caſe, pleadings in a, 361.
Lewis XVI. and his family, characteriſtic traits of, 81. affecting particulars relative to, 341.
Libertines, on the proper mode of behaving to them, 481.
Literary ſhepherd, a ſingular, 296.
Literary talents, on their miſapplication, by Dr. Warton, 393.
London Bridge, hiſtorical account of, 272.
Lord Mayor, the charity of one, 255.
Luxuries, tax on, 177.
Lying, propoſals for an academy of, 150, 241.

M.

Malmeſbury, Lord, intereſting particulars reſpecting, 213.
Mechanic, ſhort account of an ingenious, 437.
Memorandum, a ſingular, 36.
Meyer, F. G. intereſting account of the life and tragical death of, commonly called Count R, 61, 87, 123, 146, 172, 188.
Modern inventions, hints on, 53.
Monſieur and the Compte d'Artois, characters of, by Mr. Burke, 251.
Murders, narrative of two horrid, 86, 155.

N.

Necker, ſhort account of a viſit to, 35.
Needles and pins, 196.
Negro ſlave, account of the very extraordinary power of calculation by memory poſſeſſed by one in Maryland, 233.
Newſpaper, meditations on a, 162.
Nuptial tie, indiſſolubility of the, 216.

O.

Old men, on their auſterity, 356.
Oppoſition, on their ſeceſſion from Parliament, by Mr. W. Woodfall, 421.
Orkney Iſlands, Sir J. Sinclair's account of popular prejudices ſtill retained there, 253.
Orthography, a ſpecimen of, 277.

P.

Parker, Richard, account of the trial of that celebrated mutineer, 10, 25, 47. narrative of the remarkable circumſtances which attended his execution; and a copy of his farewell letter to his wife, 69.
Parſimonious character, a ſingular, 252.
Peter III. Emperor of Ruſſia, account of, 472.
Philoſopher, the true, 185, 205.
Pichegru, ſketches of the character of General, 161, 441.
Platina, account of that metal, 375.
Popular judgment on the arts, on the, 356.
Prologues of Dryden and Pope, on the, 376.
Providential delivery, 370.

Q.

Queſtions, 157, 218, 337, 438, 477, 498. Anſwers to, 17, 57, 178, 257, 397, 497.

Rebuſes,

R.

Rebuſes, 18, 37, 58, 78, 98, 118, 157, 238, 278, 298, 318, 358, 377, 438, 518. Anſwers to, 18, 37, 97, 138, 157, 178, 237, 277, 278, 317, 337, 357, 417, 437, 477, 497, 517.
Receipt, a curious, 254.
Reflections, 36, 77, 256, 276, 297, 316, 416, 476, 497, 517.
Riches, the true uſe of, an oriental tale, 292.
Rolle, Denys, Eſq. account of the late reſpectable, 461.
Rowe, N. Mr. ſketch of his character, 476.

S.

Seat of honour, enquiry into the, 101.
Seamen, inſtance of the bravery of Britiſh, 56.
Solitary impriſonment, on the happy effects of, 304.
Spirituous liquors, on the fatal effects of uſing them, 489.
St. Winifrede's Well, deſcription of, 269.
Suicide, affecting and intereſting communication reſpecting, 409, 457.

T.

Theophilanthropiſts, account of a new ſect of religioniſts ſo called, 185.
Tranquillity of mind, on, 497.
Travis, Mr. Archdeacon, ſketch of his character, 353.
Trials, intereſting, 65, 168, 227, 244, 384, 445.
Tulips, extraordinary extravagance of the Dutch in that article, 110, 132.
Turks, account of their funeral ceremonies, 8.
Turnpike-tickets, an improved plan of them, 251.

V.

Vanity, ridiculous inſtance of, 177.
Verſes. Ellen and Danvert, a tale, 19. Mary, by Mr. Southey, 38. ſonnet, by W. Harris, jun. of Exeter, 40. a ſoliloquy, ibid. on riches, by Œdipus, of Yeovil, 59. dirge, occaſioned by the death of an infant, ibid. to a lady on her approaching nuptials, 60. a dream, addreſſed to Phillis, 79. Annabella, ibid. a prayer written in the proſpect of death, 80. hymn, compoſed in a morning's walk, near Congleton, by the late Rev. Mr. Turner, of Wakefield, May 13, 1758, 99. the ſhepherd's ſong to May, by J. Butterworth, a poor weaver, at Oldham, in Lancaſhire, 100. Lucretius, book i. verſe 1. imitated, by Gilbert Wakefield, 119. lines on the unfortunate end of Captain Eaton, of the Marlborough man of war, by Lector, 120. to an abſent father, ibid. elegy, ſuppoſed to be written on the banks of Detroit river, 139. ode, by Mrs. Brooke, 140. deſcription of a modern novel, by George Colman, jun. Eſq. 159. the rock, by Peter Pindar, Eſq. 160. extract from an ode to the Livery of London, on their petition to his Majeſty for kicking out his worthy miniſters, alſo written by Peter Pindar, 179. on the falſe pleaſures of this temporary world, 180. epigram to a very kind friend, but a very great talker, ibid. ode, on expecting to return to Cambridge in 1747, by the late Rev. W. Maſon, 199. addreſs to the glow-worm, 200. impromptu, on a lady's falling into an hyſteric fit, at the Exeter Theatre, on hearing Mrs. Siddons ſhriek aloud in the character of Belvidera, 200. verſes written on the beach at Sapphy, in Barbary, while detained detained there on a voyage from Portugal to England, 219, 239. to Mrs. Biſhop, with a pocket looking-glaſs, written by the late Mr. Biſhop, maſter of Merchants Taylors' School, 220. epitaph on a beautiful boy, ibid. on ſolitude, 240. lines occaſioned by a thunder-ſtorm which happened on the night of Auguſt 17, 1797, by D. Gill, of Briſtol, 259. to memory, by F. Hancock, of Exeter, 260. ſonnet, ibid. irregular ſtanzas to hope, by J. C. of Taviſtock, 279. to content, by F. Hancock, of Exeter, 280. the veil, addreſſed to Emma, 299. ſtanzas to Selima, tranſlated from the Perſian by Mr. Fox, 300. on the late mutiny at the Nore, by Œdipus, of Yeovil, 319. the female exile, written at Brighthelmſtone, in November, 1792, by Miſs Charlotte Smith, 320. epitaph on a promiſing child, ibid. addreſs to peace, by F. Hancock, of Exeter, 339. on the omnipreſence of the Deity, by Mr. Fox, 340. deſcription of winter in Canada, by Mr. Mackay, 359. elegy, occaſioned by the loſs of the author's daughter, by Sir Brooke Boothby, Bart. 360. an epigram, ibid. the year ninety-ſeven, or Jervis and Duncan, a new ſong, 379. the maid of the vale, 380. on the late defeat of the Dutch fleet, by R. J. Thorn, 399. fame, by J. Traer, of Taunton, 400. in Chloen mortuam, tranſlated from the Latin, ibid. tranſlation of Caſimir's ode to the Eolian harp, ibid. ode to contemplation, by Mr. Mott, 419. lines, by Dr. Crane, on the victory obtained by Admiral Duncan over the Dutch fleet, October 11, 1797, 420. on the ſame, ibid. an epigram, ibid. lines found in a bower facing the ſouth, 439. on reading ſome verſes to the memory of the late Hon. Edw. James Eliot, 440. to domeſtic peace, ibid. the ſorrows of Antoinette, by J. Bowbeer, of Barnſtaple, 459. lines addreſſed to a friend on his aſking the author, "What he thought of the time to come?" by Edward Lloyd, of Honiton, ibid. addreſs to content, by Mr. C. Lloyd, 460. on Admiral Duncan's victory, ibid. Rumora, or the maid of Raaſa, by the late G. M. Berkeley, Eſq. 479. addreſs to my cat, by Neddy, of Honiton, 480. lines addreſſed by a lady to her huſband upon his birth-day, on the 19th of November, ibid. on the death of a child, ibid. ode for Chriſtmas-day, 1797, by W. Paul, of Caſtle-Cary, 499. ſtanzas for the Blind Liverpool Aſylum, 500. contemplative lines, occaſioned by peruſing the manuſcript copied in the Entertainer for November 20, which was written on the walls of an uninhabited houſe, at Sea Mills, near Briſtol, by an unfortunate man, whoſe body was found in the Dock, September 29, 1797, by David Gill, of Briſtol, 520.

W.

Waſhington, account of a viſit to General, 234.
Waſte lands, jeu d' eſprit reſpecting, 94.
Whim, ſingular, 131.
Wife, curious advertiſements for a, 57, 137.
Woburn Abbey ſheep-ſhearing, account of, 17.

Z.

Zimmermann, Dr. memoirs of his life and writings, by Dr. Tiſſot, 321, 350.